

CULTURE, RACE, AND THE CHURCH

Register

COLLEGE of BIBLICAL STUDIES
GRACE RELATIONS

It's time for a new conversation.

Culture, Race, and the Church is a self-paced, online study that provides a refreshing alternative to society's polarized and divisive discussions about race relations.

- $99 - Engage with encouraging material on your own, without a facilitator/trainer.
- Understand what the Bible has to say about race, racism, slavery, interracial marriage, and gospel-centered relationships grounded in the Biblical morality.
- Learn how to appropriately navigate difficult conversations with grace.
- Discover God's desire for Christians to love Him and our neighbors.
- Review history, both bad and good, from a biblical viewpoint and be encouraged to collaborate with others to focus on making history now.
- Take this course at your own pace, anytime, anywhere there is internet access.
- Enjoy a variety of resources to enhance your knowledge.

If you desire to develop a forward-thinking, biblical worldview and to focus on making - not merely reading - history through personal and community change, enroll today in Culture, Race, and the Church.

For more information, contact us at gracerelations.cbshouston.edu or 317.789.8255.

$99 - Engage with encouraging material on your own, without a facilitator/trainer.

